

(14) ON GUARD
By Joseph R. Sizoo

Small in size, large in inspirational value. Though designed partially for use in the Army and Navy, it is not a war book at all in content. Its brief, succinct paragraphs deal with the central themes of life and religion. Arresting and suggestive.

Macmillan $1.00

(15) THE HIGHWAY OF GOD
By Ralph W. Sockman

The Lyman Beecher Lectures on Preaching at Yale in 1941 worthy to stand high in a great succession. The problems of the church and its ministry in the midst of the present wilderness of confusion set forth with keen analysis, sure ethical and religious insight, and authentic eloquence.

Macmillan $2.00

(16) IN THE SHADOW OF THE CROSS
By Frederick K. Stamm

Lenten meditations relating the experience and mind of Jesus to characteristic needs, choices, and strains of our time. It brings to social questions, as well as to those of personal life, a deeply religious spirit and warmth of conviction.

Macmillan $1.50

(17) THE BIBLE FOR TODAY
By John Stirling

A strikingly new idea in an edition of the Bible. The whole Bible in the Authorized Version is related to the life and problems of today in almost 200 beautiful and striking drawings, with paragraphs of interpretation for each book, setting the truth into our contemporary world. Impressive and stimulating.

Oxford $5.00

(18) I, NATHANIEL KNEW JESUS
By Van Tassell Sutphen

An imaginative story of the life of Jesus as told by Nathaniel. Marked by full and sound knowledge of the Biblical background and country. Reverent in tone, fascinating in narrative.

Revell $2.50

(19) THE LORD'S PRAYER
By Ernest Fremont Tittle

No part of the Bible has been more often written about than the Lord's prayer; never has it been done with more gripping effectiveness than in this brief glowing book. The petitions of the prayer are used as windows through which to look out on the present scene. Timely and searching.

(20) RELIGION AND THE WORLD OF TOMORROW
By Walter W. Van Kirk

The centuries speak to the hours in this little book. It points pathways to the lasting peace, and the place the Christian religion can and must play in remolding the world nearer to God's desire. Authoritative, timely, persuasive.

Willett-Clark $1.50

(21) THIS IS THE VICTORY
By Leslie D. Weatherhead

A book that comes literally out of the furnace of London under bombs. Yet the author is above the battle. He writes, not a war book, but a book of faith and courage. The work of a great pastor with a sure and deep knowledge of God and man. Emphatically a book for days of strain.

Abingdon-Cokesbury $2.00

(22) CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE
By J. S. Whale

This book is not a substitute for a box of candy. It is not an easy means of "killing time." But it will make the time spent in its reading live long for the reader who brings to it serious attention. A remarkably clear presentation of the Christian faith, by a man gifted in lucid and memorable expression.

Macmillan $2.00

(23) THE FAMILY LIVES ITS RELIGION
By Regina Westcott Wieman

The author does not move in the stratosphere of generalities; this book has its being in the concrete details of family life. Psychological scholarship, sympathetic understanding and deep religious spirit conspire to make this a very valuable book to all interested in building Christian homes.

THESE OUTSTANDING BOOKS FOR LENTEN READING

Were Selected

By

DR. HALFORD E. LUCCOCK

SPRING

1942

A Statement by

Dr. HALFORD E. LUCCOCK, Professor of Homiletics, Yale University Divinity School, and author of Contemporary American Literature and Religion, American Mirror, etc., who selected this list of books.

Lent 1942 brings an unusually strong obligation to do serious reading. Surely never has there been a greater demand for the use of brains in religion. Good wishes are not enough. Bernard Shaw once said of a friend, "His heart is with us, I wish we had his head." The offering of our heads is our reasonable service this year.

It is hard to remember a year in which there were more new religious books of high quality and power to set minds and hearts and lives in motion for the world's welfare than in this spring of 1942. The list here offered contains many books of great potential for inducing spiritual momentum. I deeply regret that many volumes of great value published this past year are not named here. The list had to be kept short, and a balance between different varieties of books had to be observed if possible. It is earnestly hoped that the list suggested may be of service in bringing books and readers together, helping to form the Christian mind and mood so greatly needed today.

(1) A CHRISTIAN IMPERATIVE

By Roswell P. Barnes

Timely, brief, thoughtful discussion of the contribution of the church to world order. First-hand knowledge of the world situation and insight into the resources of the world-wide church combine to make it a challenging book at the present time.

Friendship Press

$1.00

(2) CHRISTIAN REALISM

By John C. Bennett

A rare combination of solid "tough minded" thinking and a readable style as clear as sunlight. Theology is made to walk our common ways; the hardest questions of our times are faced frankly, and the light of Christian revelation thrown on them.

Scribner's

$2.00

(3) PRAYER

By George A. Buttrick

A book certainly destined to long life and wide influence. A major contribution to the theory and practice of prayer from years of study and experience by one of the noblest spirits in the American pulpit. Written in a style of music and moving force.

Abingdon-Cokesbury

$2.75

(4) HOW JESUS DEALT WITH MEN

By Raymond Calkins

Jesus' contacts with ten people are portrayed with insight and imagination, bringing to light His resources for the tensions and burdens resting on people today. Fresh and original, embodying the wisdom of a long and rich pastoral ministry.

Abingdon-Cokesbury

$1.75

(5) THE KEYS OF THE KINGDOM

By A. J. Cronin

A best-selling novel that well deserves its fate. The inspiring story of a priest in Scotland and China, who made a "howling success" of the ministry by coming not to be ministered to, but to minister. The story has dramatic interest and the central character a genuine nobility.

Little, Brown

$2.50

(6) LIVING UNDER TENSION

By Harry Emerson Fosdick

Here are twenty-five sermons, yet the word "sermons" cannot adequately describe them. Like their author, they are unique. They are intellectual and spiritual adventures which sweep widely through human problems in a time of tension and bring sympathy, understanding, and inner fortification. Rich in thought and vivid in expression, with an amazing closeness to human experience.

(13) THESE SHARED HIS POWER

By Edwin McNeill Poter

The experiences of the six disciples of Jesus during the post-resurrection days are treated in a series of twin chapters. In each case, the first chapter is an imaginative re-telling of the Bible story, done with beauty and narrative power. The second deals with the theme of the story in a modern setting. Original and provocative.

The book has just come and you are certainly generous to serial it when I have given you nothing to help with the costs. I hope the sales will be good, both for your sake and the sake of those who will buy and use it. You must have enjoyed compiling it. I have only had time to glance at it, but the variety of the quotations is interesting and I am sure it was fun to pick them out and put them in. Congratulations and good wishes!

I may state first of all that I am a registered C. O. or pacifist. I ~~will~~ not even perform non-combatant service. Having recently seen a copy of a mimeographed letter of yours, upon having read some of your material in "How to Keep America out of War" and "The Abolition of War", I too would like to benefit by your strength of belief in our movement. Would it be possible to receive your letters & other materials to use in speaking occasions? I am a congregationalist by faith but I desire a definite tie up with a strong pacifist group. What would you suggest? I realize it is rather late to line one's self up with a group but I would like to avail myself of

Japanese Methodist Church
1916-22nd Street
Bakersfield, California

Dear Mr. Page:

Rev. Dillon Throckmorton of Trinity Methodist Church suggested your name when we were talking about the evacuation problem in our community. As you may be very familiar with the general situation in regard to the Japanese people here, we are facing a very difficult task.

Although Bakersfield is in Zone no. 2, we believe that we have to move out of here eventually. If so, it is the consensus of opinion of my congregation that we should seek a haven somewhere in the interior to start a real Christian community.

Most of our people are hard-working farmers. Their children will also be glad to work with their parents. Ever since I came to this church, I have been lead to develop a cooperative spirit among my people who had been divided among small factions. The effort has been rewarded to a remarkable degree up till now. Especially, after the crisis the spirit which has been cultivated manifested itself in a beautiful cooperative actions.

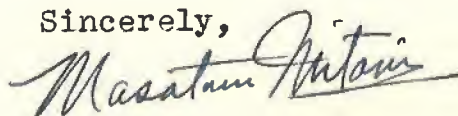

The greatest heritage these aged parents can leave to their children is the cooperative society undergirded by the Spirit of Christ. To me, this is a God-sent opportunity to work toward that end. About ten people are fairly well off financially and able to either buy or lease necessary land. Altogether I have about twenty-five families.

Do you think there is some outlying place where we can go and develop a new community? This is rather sudden. I know I am groping in the dark, but to me it is a call from God that I should find a place for my people and their children before any disaster falls upon them.

Appreciate whatever advice you can give us in this regard.

Blessings to you.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Page,

Late last fall I ordered 50 copies of your booklet, HOW DOES GOD DEAL WITH EVILDOERS, on consignment.

The period during which I had hoped to dispose of them has been one in which people were not so much interested in how God deals with evildoers, but one in which they have wanted to take a direct ~~hand~~ against "evildoers". Consequently, the booklets have not sold as I had hoped and as they deserve to be purchased and studied.

In a separate package I am returning 35 of the 50 (36 with a soiled one which I placed on top to take the "jolts"). I am enclosing a check for $1.00 to pay for the others and to help you in defraying shipping costs. If this is not a satisfactory settlement, please let me know, for I want to do what is right.

Dear Dr. Page,

I am very sorry that I have been so slow in sending the money for the fifty copies of "God and Evildoers." We used the pamphlets in connection with a mid-week series which we had. A number of our people have purchased copies and read them.

While I am writing I should certainly like to thank you for the letter which we received in January. The statement of faith which it contained was a real help to my wife and me. In such a time as this it takes real faith and purpose for a Christian pacifist to stand true to the best he knows. On every hand--over the radio, in the press, in friendly conversation--there are words of hate and war. Even on Sunday mornings I feel a certain unvoiced dissatisfaction that I am not using my pulpit to promote the war, civilian defense and bond buying. Such a letter as you sent was truly heartening.

May the spirit of Christ strengthen you for the tasks which are yours.

Dear Dr. Page:

We are making plans for the Pacific Palisades conference to be held on March 17. We have decided that if agreeable with you it would be better to have a dinner meeting at 6:30 rather than a lunch meeting. That will make a schedule as follows: Afternoon meeting at 2:30; dinner meeting at 6:30; evening at 7:30.

What shall we announce as subject of the conference? As I recall we thought it would be well to repeat the afternoon program as of Westwood but change the evening message inasmuch as there will probably be many of the same people at the evening meeting here.

Rev. Roy Tucker, 1046 Lincoln Blvd., Santa Monica is taking care of publicity. Will you please reply to this letter to him. He would also like to have 20 additional copies of the picture poster like you sent me and also another mat of yourself for the Santa Monica Outlook. We are using the mat you sent me in the Palisadian. If its not convenient to send another perhaps we can get the one from the Palisadian.

We are expecting another very profitable time together. Best wishes to you always in your service to the Master and our fellow men.

Dear Mr. Page;

I noticed an article appearing recently in the Ontario, Calif. Daily Report that you had spoken before some church group and that your home was in La Habra, I believe.

As your name is rather a singular one, I am wondering if you are the "Kirby Page" who collaborated with Sherwood Eddy in compiling "Makers of Freedom".

In our memorial work for Miss Anthony during the last 7 years, we have made use of extracts from this book frequently in convincing people of her greatness - probably the greatest woman in our history. I am enclosing a copy - supposedly taken from your book and it is the second paragraph that we have used over and over again, always giving credit whenever possible.

I have never been able to obtain a copy of this book, although I have appealed to a New York firm to find one for our S.B.A. Memorial Library, as it would be a valuable addition.

The thought has come to me that perhaps, if you are really the joint editor, you may be able to direct me to some one who could supply our need.

Dear Mr. Page:

We are unable to make any permanent dates in August owing to the unsettled conditions in Medford brought about by the war and the building of a Cantonment. Would be pleased to hear you if, and when the opportune time arrives available.

Yours truly,

Louis C. Kirby

It is normal and right for a tree to be leafless and bare in wintertime. But it is really quite busy making preparation to put forth new leaves. If it cannot show evidence of new growth when spring comes, everyone will know it is dead.

Christians are like this too. Unless we are able to advance in faith and righteousness in the normal seasons of new growth, our souls are already dead. We must never reach a state of self-satisfaction with our goodness.

"He's my pastor"

Four-year-old Barbara was very sick. She tossed and turned in her little bed in feverish restlessness. After Mother had given Barbara her medicine, the little girl said, "Mother, please ask the minister to come and pray for me."

Mother was a little surprised that such a little girl felt the need of the pastor's attention. But she sent for him, and he came right away. Barbara and he folded their hands and asked God for health and strength. Barbara smiled and said, "I feel better now."

Afterward Mother said, "I'm very glad you wanted the minister." And Barbara replied, "Well, why shouldn't I? He's my pastor. He told us so in Sunday school, and said he is always ready to visit us when we need him."

Barbara's mother had learned quite a lot from her small daughter. Our pastor is not only called to lead us in worship, and to oversee the many activities of our congregation, but to be our friend and counsellor. In times of illness he helps to strengthen our faith and confidence.

There are other times when we need advice and encouragement from a sympathetic friend. The pastor has the training and experience to be such a friend. He sees the spiritual difficulties which may underlie the troubles in our personal lives.

There are also many times when the pastor needs our friendship and help. He finds plenty of discouragement in trying to do God's work. He is constantly meeting people who are careless and indifferent toward spiritual things.

Sometimes he feels that there are not many in the congregation who are willing to share with him the responsibility for the work of God's kingdom. Some church people are willing to talk a lot about what ought to be done, but not ready to do much themselves. Why not try offering the pastor your assistance?

A complication sometimes arises in our relation with our pastor through our affection for some former pastor. When Johnnie is to be baptized, or Jane is to be married, we may want our old pastor.

The thing to consider here is that administering baptism, solemnizing marriage, or conducting funerals are official acts of the church, not personal acts of the minister. They are formally entered in the church records. Our loyalty to our church should cause us to want the pastor of our own church to officiate. In any situation of this kind we should talk things over with our pastor before making other arrangements.

THE METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP.

We hope you have had a profitable gathering and a good time. May the inspiration find an outlet in action as your return to your home churches.

A Coaching Conference for the newly installed officers will be held following the luncheon.

Mr Wilbur R Korsmeier, District President, the District Officers, and the local Youth Fellowship are to be congratulated on the splendid arrangements made prior to the convention. We also thank those members and friends of our church who opened their homes to the delegates. The Young People appreciate it.

Circle 1 will meet in the Church Parlor on Tuesday next at 1.30 p.m. Come prepared to sew and roll bandages.

Dr Hooper's first two Lenten Sermons "Give Your Soul A Chance" and "The Peril of Apostacy" are on sale at your request. They may be secured from the usher at five cents each. This just covers cost.

The Official Board again heard the report "All Bills Paid" at the last meeting. This is joyful news, and we thank all who are contributing to this end.

Next Sunday morning the Pastor speaks on "Are the terms "Lost" and "Saved" Obsolete ?. In the evening the Civic Children's Chorus under Mrs Bartlett will give a program, and Mr C .A .Moore of Long B each speaks on "The Stewardship of S piritual Possessions". Hear Him.

Dear Kirby:

I am very sorry to have to say that even the second printing of POWER, our Lenten devotional manual, has been completely exhausted, and it is therefore impossible to fill your order for 100 copies. I am, however, enclosing a single copy from the few we had kept for our files in order that you may have it for your personal use.

I should be glad to have your comments on it, since my experience with this project convinces me that young people are anxious for some such guidance for personal devotion. I am also convinced that the rather stereotyped thing which we have done in POWER is not the most effective form that such material might take. You have given us excellent leadership in this entire field, and as I go about the country I find that your devotional books are very widely used among our young people, and I have been consistently recommending them. More power to you in all your work!

Sincerely yours,

Harvey Seifert

Dear Melbourne:

Your important letter of the 6th has just come. You say "things have changed" but you give no details. You say "I am requesting that you cancel the engagement" but you give no reasons.

Is this a fair way to treat a friend of long standing?

What things have changed?

Has the Christian Gospel changed since last November when you wrote: "I will be happy to have you with us"?

The subjects suggested for my sermons were The Power of God and Living Prayerfully. Have these eternal truths changed since November?

Has government policy concerning the freedom of the pulpit been changed since November?

Has the Christian's obligation to serve God rather than man been abrogated?

Before you cancel this engagement, do tell me what things have changed.

March 10, 1942

The Inter-group fellowship tonight presents Kirby Page, well known Christian author and lecturer. We count it a privilege to have him with us. May your visit be a happy one, Mr. Page.

KIRBY PAGE

Any wealthy man in Los Angeles who does not share some of Kirby Page's ideas in the realm of religion and social controls said this a few years ago when certain reactionaries were objecting to Mr. Page speaking in the church where this wealthy man is a member--"I do not share all Mr. Page's ideas, but I know that he is one of the first ten Christian-Social Prophets in America and I think he should be heard in our church."

This statement that he is one of the first ten Christian-Social Prophets would get the hearty endorsement of thousands of his "fans" across the College and University world of the United States. He has a keen mind for analysis, is such a friend for work (a regular slave) and has such a fair considerate way of treating all questions and questioners that when ever men and women are exposed to him once they come again. Jesus and his "dangerous" teaching are absolutely central with Kirby Page.

I can think of no other man in our country who is so well qualified by experience, training, spirit and ability to speak to students and discuss the baffling personal, religious and social problems confronting them. He is widely travelled having been many times to Europe and once around the world. On the world tour he conferred with Gandhi, Nehru, Chang Kai Shek, Kogawa and many other educational, political and religious leaders. He writes a book each year and finds a wide sale and use. His "Living Creatively" was a book of the month recognition and this same book got first rank among 434 books listed in a national poll conducted by the Hazen Foundation to discover the volume on religion most helpful to college students. His later book "Living Prayerfully" bids fair to be as useful.

Kirby Page is welcomed heartily in Churches, Colleges and Civic Organizations throughout this and other countries. A student is yet ignorant who has not contacted him and his message.

WHAT IS A "TIMELY" EDITORIAL?

The probable answer to this question is that it is one which comes in time to help somebody. The second guess is not 'timely'; it is too late. 'I told you so!' may be the aftermath of a timely pronouncement, --a sort of self-vindication, --although it may indicate that we did not do the telling effectively, earnestly or persistently.

The truly 'timely' thought or act is therefore one that is connected with a persistent truth and propelled by a persistent champion. Such a thought is PEACE. Peace is a persistent need and it needs a persistent champion. If it is to be a reality there must be no cessation of 'hostilities' in its behalf, for to say after its demise, 'I told you so' is futile.

We cannot make a mistake by undergirding our war-time thought of PEACE with the re-examination of our relationship to the Prince of Peace. The One who gave Himself to reconcile the warring spirit of men with the all-forgiving Spirit of God is needed at this point. During days when men are at one another's throats shall we not effectively, earnestly and persistently remind ourselves and our friends of the oft-observed 'objectives' of this war in order that, when the Nations gather around the Peace-table the thoughts and acts of the Christian shall have been 'timely'?

LENTEN READING LIST -- 1942

Annually the religious publishers of America join in choosing an outstanding minister whose knowledge of books is respected by American denominations and ask him to prepare a limited list of leading books particularly helpful for Lenten reading. Dr. Halford E. Luccock, professor of homiletics at Yale University Divinity School, was chosen this year.

A CHRISTIAN IMPERATIVE

By ROSWELL P. BARNES. Timely, brief, thoughtful discussion of the contribution of the church to world order. First-hand knowledge of the world situation and insight into the resources of the world-wide church combine to make it a challenging book at the present time. Friendship Press $1.00

ON GUARD

By JOSEPH R. SIZOO. Small in size, large in inspirational value. Though designed partially for use in the army and navy, it is not a war book at all in content. Its brief, succinct paragraphs deal with the central themes of life and religion. Arresting and suggestive. Macmillan $1.00

CHRISTIAN REALISM

By JOHN C. BENNETT. A rare combination of solid, "tough-minded" thinking and a readable style as clear as sunlight. Theology is made to walk our common ways; the hardest questions of our time are faced frankly, and the light of Christian revelation thrown on them. Scribner's $2.00

PRAYER

By GEORGE A. BUTTRICK. A book certainly destined to long life and wide influence. A major contribution to the theory and practice of prayer from years of study and experience by one of the noblest spirits in the American pulpit. Written in a style of music and moving force. Abingdon-Cokesbury $2.75

HOW JESUS DEALT WITH MEN

By RAYMOND CALKINS. Jesus' contacts with ten people are portrayed with insight and imagination, bringing to light His resources for the tensions and burdens resting on people today. Fresh and original, embodying the wisdom of a long and rich pastoral ministry. Abingdon-Cokesbury $1.75

THE KEYS OF THE KINGDOM

By A. J. CRONIN. A best-selling novel that well deserves its fate. The inspiring story of a priest in Scotland and China, who made a "howling success" of the ministry by coming not to be ministered unto, but to minister. The story has dramatic interest and the central character a genuine nobility. Little, Brown $2.50

LIVING UNDER TENSION

By HARRY EMERSON FOSDICK. Here are twenty-five sermons, yet the word "sermons" cannot adequately describe them. Like their author, they are unique. They are intellectual and spiritual adventures which sweep widely through human problems in a time of tension and bring sympathy, understanding, and inner fortification. Rich in thought and vivid in expression, with an amazing closeness to human experience. Harper $1.50

A CHAIN OF PRAYER ACROSS THE AGES

Compiled by SELINA F. FOX. An enlarged and revised edition, printed in convenient form, of one of the most comprehensive and useful collections of prayers ever made. A fruitful aid to the devotional life. Dutton $1.50

THE UNQUENCHABLE LIGHT

By KENNETH SCOTT LATOURETTE. A great historian of Christianity gives in brief, compact form an inspiring panorama of the spread of the influence of Jesus through nineteen centuries and into all the nooks and corners of the earth. Harper $2.00

DISCOVERY: A GUIDEBOOK TO LIVING

By ROBERT M. BARTLETT. This is frankly a book of quotations. The arrangement is ideal for daily reading. Oxford $5.00 and meditation. The ideas are robust in thought; timely in significance; real ignition points for the mind and spirit. Association Press $1.50

WHAT CAN WE BELIEVE

By RANDOLPH C. MILLER. Simple, clear, exceedingly frank discussion of what Christianity has to offer to that large company of modern men who wonder whether it has anything to offer. Scribner's $2.00

WOMEN OF THE BIBLE

By H. V. MORTON. Delightful, brief character sketches of women of the Bible, written by one whose knowledge of Palestine is extensive and detailed. Written in the fascinating style which has won such a large reading public for the author's travel books. Dodd, Mead $2.00

LIVING PRAYERFULLY

By KIRBY PAGE. An ideal book for Lenten devotional use. A "God's plenty" of poetry, arresting prose, and prayers selected with skill from wide-ranging sources, conveniently arranged for daily use. Farrar & Rinehart $2.00

THESE SHARED HIS POWER

By EDWIN McNEILL POTEAT. The experiences of six disciples of Jesus during the post-resurrection days are treated in a series of twin chapters. In each case, the first chapter is an imaginative re-telling of the Bible story, done with beauty and narrative power. The second deals with the theme of the story in the modern setting. Original and provocative. Harper $2.00

THE HIGHWAY OF GOD

By RALPH W. SOCKMAN. The Lyman Beecher Lectures on Preaching at Yale in 1941, worthy to stand high in a great succession. The problems of the church and its ministry in the midst of the present wilderness of confusion set forth with keen analysis, sure ethical and religious insight, and authentic eloquence. Macmillan $2.00

IN THE SHADOW OF THE CROSS

By FREDERICK K. STAMM. Lenten meditations relating the experience and mind of Jesus to characteristic needs, choices, and strains of our time. It brings to social questions, as well as to those of personal life, a deeply religious spirit and warmth of conviction. Macmillan $1.50

THE BIBLE FOR TODAY

By JOHN STIRLING. A strikingly new idea in an edition of the Bible. The whole Bible in the Authorized Version is related to the life and problems of today in almost 200 beautiful and striking drawings, with paragraphs of interpretation for each book, setting the truth into our contemporary world. Impressive and stimulating. Oxford $5.00

I, NATHANIEL, KNEW JESUS

By VAN TASSELL SUTPHEN. An imaginative story of the life of Jesus as told by Nathaniel. Marked by full and sound knowledge of the Biblical background and country. Reverent in tone, fascinating in narrative. Revell $2.50

THE LORD'S PRAYER

By ERNEST FREMONT TITTLE. No part of the Bible has been more often written about than the Lord's Prayer; never has it been done with more gripping effectiveness than in this brief, glowing book. The petitions of the prayer are used as windows through which to look out on the present scene. Timely and searching. Abingdon-Cokesbury $1.00

RELIGION AND THE WORLD OF TOMORROW

By WALTER W. VAN KIRK. The centuries speak to the hours in this little book. It points pathways to lasting peace, and the place the Christian religion can and must play in remolding the world nearer to God's desire. Authoritative, timely, persuasive. Willett-Clark $1.50

THIS IS THE VICTORY

By LESLIE D. WEATHERHEAD. A book that comes literally out of the furnace of London under bombs. Yet the author is above the battle. He writes, not a war book, but a book of faith and courage. The work of a great pastor with a sure and deep knowledge of God and man. Emphatically a book for days of strain. Abingdon-Cokesbury $2.00

CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE

By J. S. WHALE. This book is not a substitute for a box of candy. It is not an easy means of "killing time." But it will make the time spent in its reading live long for the reader who brings to it serious attention. A remarkably clear presentation of the Christian faith, by a man gifted in lucid and memorable expression. Macmillan $2.00

THE FAMILY LIVES ITS RELIGION

By REGINA WESTCOTT WIEMAN. The author does not move in the stratosphere of generalities; this book has its being in the concrete details of family life. Psychological scholarship, sympathetic understanding and deep religious spirit conspire to make this a very valuable book to all interested in building Christian homes. Harper $2.00

My dear Dr. Page:

Kindly write us as to the terms on which you may be able to come to Forest Grove in August? Know that we shall make every possible preparation for your coming and shall leave no item out of our plans to make your presence here count.

Just as soon as we have your terms, I shall go to work on my brothers of the ministry and we shall lay the plans for a great day. Of course, we must reckon with conference - ours meets in June and I have been in Forest Grove for six years. This need not affect the plans we make however.

Let us hear from you soon.

We are looking forward to your conference here April 20. Would you kindly send me some material for publicity and a mat. Also outline of conference on "Living Prayerfully".

I have several copies of your book, "Living Prayerfully" on consignment. They will be on display during conference.

✓ We have a Study Club in our Methodist Conference, composed of about twenty young ministers. The majority are pacifist. We usually meet in the Spring and also early Fall. I have asked this Club to meet as my guest April 20 so as to benefit from your conference.

We would like for you to have dinner with this Club the night of the 20th and speak, if you will, informally, on the Pacifist Philosophy of Life. As you will have the night Conference we would not expect this to be a lengthy session. This club is the hopes of a "better way" within our Conference in regards to the traditional method of war.

Please advise me in making arrangements for the conference as we want to make this city-wide.

It is increasing my conviction that some such position as yours is the Christain one. Surely we have not taken Christ seriously and surely He has some definite message for the people of our day.

As I told you when you were here I am planning to retire this fall but I do hope there will be opportunity for writing and for more intensive study for the next few years. It so appears that the way is clear for me to spend a good deal of time in the research department in my old Seminary at Richmond and I am also to have access to the Library of Congress in Washington. I do wish that out of this there might grow something in the way of a book. Dr. Thompson in Richmond is suggesting that I take "The Making of the Southern Presbyterian Mind" for my study and somewhere along the line I will want to talk with you. You are Southern born as I am and yet you have a vast freedom which not many around seem to achieve. I do hope that we can in some degree keep in touch with each other.

I am busy with more or less mechanical details and yet there are interesting clashes here and there with the present day set up or the present day madness as it might more properly be called. I rejoice to know that we can remember each other in prayer.

Yours cordially,

D. P. McGeachy

Mount Vernon, Washington
March 12, 1942

Dear Mr. Page:

aug. 18

Thank you for your lines in which you offer to come to our city for a day and evening.

I hasten to write that you must come by every means. We hope to carry one of your suggested programs. We hope also that we may have a large company for the evening meeting.

We know that all will be highly worth while.

Except for one week, we can plan to have you at about any time. I have not yet secured the dates of our Youth Institutes, one of which we will be in attendance. We should have the dates in hand very shortly.

As President of the Ministerial Association in our City I hope we may arouse large interest in your work among us.

I will write you as to dates. Or I will be happy to get your possible dates and then choose from them. Any way that is best for you.

Very sincerely,

Harry E. Gardner

Mr. Kirby Page
Post Office Box 247

My dear Mr. Page:

If it is convenient for you to include us in your schedule into Oregon, I will be glad to sponsor a meeting for you at any time you are coming through.

August is a rather busy time for us on account of the fruit and Medford will be completing a twenty-six million dollar Cantonment about that time. However, we will work out the arrangements later.

I have thought many times of the fine contribution you made to our state convention in Northern California, and look forward to having you with us if it can be arranged.

Sincerely yours,

SUNDAY, MARCH 15th

Dr. Fagerburg will preach

Cathedral Choir in both Services

11:00 A.M.—“WHAT JESUS MEANS TO ME.”

7:30 P.M.—“FIRST TWO WORDS FROM THE CROSS”

Message in Sermon and Song

—THE WORLD AT ITS WORST NEEDS THE CHURCH AT ITS BEST—

WHAT IS CHRISTIANITY?

There are many facets to the jewel which we call Christianity. We look at it from one side and we see its ceremonies and ritual. They run the gamut from the formal Roman or Greek Catholic mass to the utterly informal Friends' service where worshipers simply sit in quiet. We look at it from the ecclesiastical side and we see more than two hundred denominations each contending that it has the true way. We look at Christianity from the doctrinal side and we find ourselves utterly confused by a complex network of theological statements.

There must be out of all the ritual, churches and doctrines a least-common-denominator, some point at which all of them converge. There is. They all meet in Christ. He is the common denominator of all our ceremonies, organizations and creeds. Christianity then is essentially a life lived in loyalty to Christ.

One wonders sometimes how it could all have grown to seem so complex. The message of Jesus was so uninvolved. He said simply “Follow Me”. Common fishermen and tax collectors could understand His appeal. “Follow me.” They did understand, responded and formed the first Christian Church.

Then Christianity is first and foremost loyalty to a person. No matter how far afield men may get in theorizing and disputing, they must come back to this, for whatever else they have if they lack this, they lack the thing which makes Christianity.

It is interesting to note how the hymn writer stays close by the heart of the matter even when the theologian has drifted away. This is because in talk and debate we differ widely but when we sing we come close together. Most of our best hymns are hymns that exalt Christ:

“Jesus the very thought of Thee

With sweetness fills my breast.”

“My Jesus I love Thee, I know Thou art mine.”

“More love to Thee, O Christ.”

The religion of loyalty to Christ has won when other emphases have failed. When missionaries have given the impression that Christianity meant western civilization, or an imitation of Christian people, they have met suspicion and failure. When Christianity has been presented with Jesus Himself at the front a different response has come. This has been remarkably true in India. For years E. Stanley Jones has been telling us that “The Christ of the Indian Road” makes a great appeal where theologies and churches have been rejected.

WHITE CROSS WORKERS — Please

Note! The regular meeting scheduled for March 18th conflicts with the coming of Dr. Kirby Page. We will meet instead on Wednesday, March 25th at 10:30 A.M. in Room 211.

Dear Friends of First Baptist:

We were surprised and delighted to receive your congratulations on our fiftieth anniversary. We are honored to be so heartily remembered after so many years. We continually hope and pray that we may soon return to our home and friends in Los Angeles.

Sincerely,

Weymouth and May Crowell.

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Custer were saddened to hear of his death last week. Mr. and Mrs. Custer united with this church in 1913, later going to the First Baptist Church in Pasadena. Deep sympathy is extended to Mrs. Custer.

THE MINISTER'S MESSAGE

The coming Sunday will be FORWARD STEP DAY in our Church School. We hope again for a fine large response from our young people who decide upon Church Membership. It is a good reason for all of us to be thinking of some forward step we might take in our Christian experience. Note dates and hours of our classes on Church Membership for children, young people and adults.

Of course we are all in prayer these days for Japanese, German and Italian people who face the inconvenience and uncertainties of evacuation. Our hearts go out especially to our Christian friends whom we have learned to trust. It is one of the cruelties of wartime and another example of the way in which the many who are innocent suffer for the guilty. I rejoice that those in positions of responsibility are humane and trustworthy people. Remind your Japanese friends that they are especially remembered in our prayers.

I am certain that caution should be used in the length of visits made upon sick and shut-in. What can and is meant to be a blessing is sometimes a burden if it is not properly timed. There are few instances where visits on the sick or convalescent should be longer than fifteen minutes.

All of us are in great need of learning to pray more effectively. Do not pass up an opportunity for a real spiritual advance presented in the Kirby Page meetings on March 18th. Plan to be present.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP CLASSES

Young people and adults—Monday, 16th, 7:45 P.M.

Primary and Junior boys and girls—Tuesday, 17th, 4:00 P.M.

Junior High boys and girls—Thursday, 19th, 4:00 P.M.

All classes meet in the church. Use entrance at 760 South Westmoreland.

OUR FINANCES

The Finance Committee wishes to express its appreciation to those who are cooperating by making or renewing pledges for the coming year (May 1, 1942 to April 30, 1943).

Our church, like others, is supported by the systematic giving of its members. Its progress or retrogression is largely measured by your loyalty in attendance, giving and other kinds of service.

THE PENNY-A-MEAL BANK is a token of daily thanksgiving, and does not take the place of any regular contributions. Use the suggested prayer at each meal if you do not have some other prayer. Remember! This means only a penny a meal for you and your family but it will mean thousands of dollars for our church.

Youth Program

• High School begins the Sunday evening youth program with a Tea at 5:30. Parents will be special guests. All young people of high school age are cordially invited. Special music will be given by Mr. Joseph Barclay. The devotional program will be in charge of Miss Barbara Highfill.

• College Age B.Y. will consider "Social Problems of our Community" as presented by Miss Elaine Miller. Miss Albana Barnett will preside. Group Meeting Supper at the church on Monday, the 16th, prior to the regular recreation period. All College Age members invited.

• Parties are the chief features in the week's schedule. Tonight (Friday) the Young Adults meet at the church for a Treasure Hunt—providing good luck on Friday the 13th for all comers. Tomorrow night (Saturday) College Age Department celebrates St. Patrick's birthday at the home of Dorothy Nowlin 952 S. Plymouth Blvd.

• Al and Joan Doyle will see that our own young folks, and visitors as well, enjoy themselves at Social Half Hour next Sunday night following the evening service.

THE RED CROSS PRODUCTION UNIT

will open for work at 10:30 on Monday, March 16th. Come with thimbles, crochet hooks or knitting needles. If you have old materials (first requirement—to be sanitary and clean) for making over into garments, please bring to Room 211, Monday, March 16th.

M.P.B.C. AUXILIARY regular meeting on March 25th instead of 18th.

Ele-Te-Kon Class will meet at the home of Mrs. Bostwick, 1316 W. 77th St., at 10:30 A.M. Thursday, March 19th.

7:30—CLOSING CONFERENCE WITH DR. PAGE

Author, social evangelist and lecturer, Dr. Page needs no introduction to this community. A stimulating teacher, a very helpful personal counsellor, he is regarded as one of the most clear-sighted men in his field—that of the practical application of Christian ethics to current problems. He has a happy combination of rational clarity and religious passion, an unerring sense of what is vital. His appeal to an uncompromising acceptance of Christ's way of life is persuasive and courageous.

MEMBERS OF ALL THE CHURCHES IN THE COMMUNITY, FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO SHARE IN THIS LENTEN OPPORTUNITY FOR SPIRITUAL ENRICHMENT.

ALL CONFERENCES WILL BE HELD IN FRANCIS CHAPEL.

WHAT IS CHRISTIANITY?

But what vast implications that immediately builds up. For the disciples that was the beginning and it was the continuing and the ending too, but immediately it meant something definite for their own individual lives—a new and wonderful commitment. Their lives were to be fashioned after His. Then Christianity is not only trusting a person it is living His kind of life. It is not simply something for Sunday. It is something for Monday through Saturday too.

Jesus did not leave His disciples to guess what He meant about this practical side of religion. As clearly and as simply as He could He explained the virtues and duties of His way of life. The Sermon on the Mount is a general outline of how He believed men should live. But more than that He took all that He said and incarnated it in Himself. He is the one instance we have of a Teacher who completely illustrated His own precepts. He becomes not only Teacher but Example. "This is My commandment that ye love one another as I have loved you."

Christianity is a new and different kind of living. Of course it assumes the simple virtues of decency, fairness and honesty, but about them it builds a wide margin. In that margin are forgiveness, good will, yes, even sacrifice and suffering for others.

But we have not yet seen Christianity as Jesus presented it. It is trusting a person Christ, it is living His kind of life. But it is enlistment in a cause. Indeed this last is the appeal which was very clear and insistent in the call of Jesus—"Come ye after Me and I will make you to become fishers of men." It was a summons to a great venture.

I have said that the message of Jesus was easy to understand. It was—so simple a little child could understand it. But how false I should be to give the impression that it was an easy thing to live. Jesus never said it was. He never deceived folks into imagining it was safe or easy. He tried to make it clear that it was hard and dangerous. He said: "If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow Me."

We see this immediately illustrated. It took Peter and Andrew away from their nets and their homes and sent them out into a tough and perilous world. Within thirty years followers of Jesus were paying with their life's blood for the cause. Across the war-torn world today there are hundreds of faithful missionaries who have stayed by their tasks to the very end. We may test the reality of our Christianity by this: does it have sacrificial commitment to a living cause?

One more thing Christianity is—must be else our commitment is vain. It is the release of new power.

"To as many as received Him gave He power to become sons of God." The invitation of Jesus carries with it a promise. God does not call man to a new life then leave him stranded and alone. One's very faith opens to him a new release of power. It is interesting to note how many times the word power occurs in the New Testament. "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you."

The fulfillment of that promise is the only explanation of the personalities of the early church. They did what they couldn't! Banking on the promise of God they accomplished the impossible. Paul said: "I am not ashamed of the Gospel—it is the power of God . . ." Surely this is the only secret to his almost unbelievable career. His own explanation was "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

The call of Christ should never be given without the promise of Christ. "Go ye . . . and lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world." After years of trying that promise in incredible hardships of old perilous Africa David Livingstone said: "It is the word of a Christian gentleman of the strictest honor and that's an end on't."

William James, the great Harvard professor, once said: "I can not tell you exactly what religion is but I can point you to a religious person." Then he mentioned the great Phillips Brooks who was making an impression upon Boston in that day.

What is spirituality? I am not sure but I can point you to deeply spiritual people. What is Christianity? Here again the best answer is given in persons. I see that answer in Albert Schweitzer, whose life is built about Christ, who lives a consistent Christlike life, who has ventured for the cause in dark Africa and who daily has received power for going on. I see the answer in Wilfred Grenfell who spent a career to serve frozen Labrador in Christ's name. I pray that of us it may be said: "Just what Christianity is I cannot say, but I can point you to some Christian people."

Prayer: "Father, to Thee we look in all our sorrow,
Thou art the fountain whence our healing flows.
Dark though the night, joy cometh with the morrow;
Safely they rest who on Thy love repose
Patient, O Heart
Be not cast down, disquieted in vain;
Yet shalt thou praise Him, when these darkened furrows
Where now He plougheth, wave with golden grain."

Amen.

Dear Dr. Page:

During the past two months I have endeavored on three occasions, at regular meetings of the Protestant Ministerial Union as well as at meetings of the Executive Committee, to obtain commitments as to arrangements for place of meeting, arrangements committee, etc., for your meeting here on April 17, all to no avail. Since last fall when they half-heartedly voted to accept your offer to come, there has been a change in attitude, also in officers and committees. The new program committee side-tracked the issue by simply stating they understood their work to be arranging matters for regular monthly (first Monday) meetings, and since your meeting does not come under that, they refuse to have anything to do with it! I challenged this, - to no avail however.

On receiving a set of publicity materials this week I again contacted the president of our organization, who suggests that I frankly state the situation to you and suggest that you cancel your New Orleans engagement. In view of the lack of interest and support, I reluctantly concur in this suggestion.

Cordially yours,

Herman Borne

ROSCOE GRAHAM, MINISTER

March 14, 1942

My dear Kirby Page:

I know you will scarcely recall me, or, perchance, the name. However, I have had the urge to tell you what I have been writing to Harold Chance and A.J. Muste.

Though I have had a pleasant six months at Plymouth Church, I came with the open intention of remain but a short time--probably not more than a year. Aggravated by my pacifistic sermons, the church-officials, quite logically--from the business point of view--concluded that I would be a poor investment, as an apprentice. They were looking for a young man who would conform-to-type, and who would remain for several years, possibly permanently.

Well, anyway, I have recently had my resignation accepted; and a period of grace extends until May 1., 1942. Naturally, this gives me a magnificent opportunity to help in youth programs in a thousand ways. My head is crammed with ideas.

Not as a resolution of my quandry, but as a response to an urge, I write to you to find out whether you need some specific help which I might offer; or whether you know of some particular "spot" for one such as myself.

Perhaps, "such as myself" needs amplification. Briefly, I'm a Congregationalist of ecumenical leanings, a seminary graduate, and a graduate of a school of religious education. My home is in Massachusetts. Perhaps, Pastoral Psychology is my closest professional field. I am unordained, and without Draft exemption. I am a C.O. by reason of Christian convictions, I believe.

For some reason, I feel better already--for having written to you.

Thank you for reading this; and in advance, thank you for any further attention you may give to this matter.

Very sincerely yours,

Letter R. Vining

NEW GOSPEL VICTORIES IN SPANISH AMERICA

THE opportunity of the ages has now come for the larger evangelism throughout all Latin America," declared Dr. John R. Mott, veteran Methodist missionary leader on his return from a recent visit to South America. "Larger in what sense? Larger in governing desire, larger in comprehension, larger in plans, larger in adaptation of ways and means to our high ends, larger in unity, larger in power and, therefore, larger in exposure to the Living Christ. . . . The central purpose and the most vital contribution of the evangelical churches to the Latin American countries is that of establishing in them strong and genuinely indigenous churches."

The Rev. John S. Herrick, missionary in La Paz, Bolivia, is working with some Bolivian evangelists and teachers among thousands of Indian peoples in eleven rural communities out from La Paz. He finds the Indians—long neglected by Christian groups—growing in interest and in confidence in the evangelical message.

FROM Buenos Aires, Mrs. S. Paul Maddock writes of the sacrifices of Argentina and Uruguay Methodist women so that they may send the Gospel to the Indians of Bolivia. "The women of the Methodist Federation of Women were able," she says, "with a great deal of hard work, and real sacrifice on the part of many, to send one thousand Argentine pesos to Bolivia this year for our Indian work there. It is difficult to estimate the vast amount of good which this money will do in that country of Bolivia, where there are so many Indians who live in ignorance and poverty. The Uruguayan women are working equally hard for this same mission field and are sending as much money to Bolivia as is the Argentine Federation. They have all caught the vision of real missionary service. At the women's meeting in our First Methodist Church (American Church), Argentina, recently, a Bolivian boy, who is at present a student in our Theological Seminary, told of the Bolivian Indian mission work. This boy plans to return to his own land to work among the Indians, when he has completed his seminary work. He is a splendid young man, has had some training in the United States, and speaks English very well indeed. He has a splendid personality, a light in his face, assurance in his testimony for Jesus Christ that will make him a real winner of souls."

DR. GEORGE P. HOWARD, Methodist evangelist to the intellectuals of Spanish America, has had some recent successful meetings with large audiences in Peru and in Bolivia. For example, at Arequipa, 8,000 feet high in the mountains of Peru, he was invited by the rector of the great University of St. Francis to address the great student body on "The Christian Foundation of Democracy." Six young Catholic priests were in the audience. He finds all types of audiences eager for the evangelical message.

Dr. Mott calls for a greatly expanded evangelical service to Spanish America—especially among the neglected Indians. "There are 16,000,000 native Indians in Spanish-speaking areas in Latin America," he says, "and we are at virtually the foundation-laying stage in the efforts on their behalf."

The Methodist Church

I sanctify myself.

This Christ prayed the night before the Crucifixion. These three words mean more than consecration or dedication. They mean I give myself to the death. Why is Christ willing to give Himself to the death? "For their sakes I sanctify myself that they also might be sanctified through the truth." Christ is giving Himself to the death that His disciples might give themselves through the truth; so that others would give themselves. This is what it means to be a follower of Christ. Christ is not sanctifying His money, His capabilities, His property, but He is sanctifying Himself. He is giving His all.

MEMO FROM ANTIOCH COLLEGE RE INSTRUCTOR IN RELIGION AND COLLEGE PASTOR TO FILL VACANCY LEFT BY DEATH OF PAUL JONES.

Yellow Springs, Ohio

March 16, 1942

Antioch Seeks an Instructor in Religion and College Pastor.

We want an unusual person. Very possibly the person we visualize as being adequate to take the place of Bishop Jones is too perfect an individual, at least too unusual to come within our budgetary provision; hence we recognize that every candidate may not possess all of the characteristics which we describe, but we are seriously anxious to find a person of outstanding quality who will see in the position here at Antioch a genuine opportunity.

Antioch is liberal in its outlook, and is unsectarian in religion. Its students and faculty include Protestants of nearly every denomination (with Episcopalians, Presbyterians and Methodists leading), Catholics; Jews, and persons who do not subscribe to any particular religious faith.

Dating from Horace Mann's time, the College has been considered by the surrounding conservative community as being unreligious. But the large majority of faculty and upperclass students think of the institution as being definitely religious in character. This conviction arises out of an unusual sensitivity toward the problems of contemporary society, which brings a strong motivation toward serving society for some good end.

The person who comes to the chair of religion at Antioch should, first of all, be a good personal counsellor. This counseling is needed in two directions: first, to assist the underclassman through the period of confusion and uncertainty often caused by the impact of many scientific and philosophical ideas, which at first shake his system of values and beliefs without providing a new one; and secondly, to assist the upperclass student of strong social motivation to define his objectives clearly and get them related to institutions which are serving the same purposes which he wants to serve.

Related to the counseling is the need for some teaching. In the past, a course called Present-day Religion -- "an introductory course for those who wish a knowledge of what religion means in modern terms and what values it may have for the individual" -- has been reasonably popular. Other possible courses can be worked out with the person chosen for the place. If the instructor were able to assist in history and social science there probably would be opportunity to use him in some part there.

A third phase of the individual's work would be that as College Pastor. The College does not have compulsory religious services. In the past, we have had a Sunday evening vespers service and regular religious discussion meetings. There are, of course, occasional special services, such as weddings and memorial services, over which the Pastor presides. On Sunday mornings, the local Friends Society has meetings in the small College chapel, which is modeled after a Friends meeting house. Catholic, Methodist, and Presbyterian church services are available in the Village.

In none of the above areas is the past necessarily a criterion as to what the program should be for the future. We should hope that the instructor in religion would have a good cosmopolitan viewpoint and experience. We should like him to be sensitive to the international situation, and to be interested in the problem of finding points of common ground among the great religions of the world, and the problems of effecting a harmonious cooperative society for the postwar world. We should like him, also, to be concerned about America's problems, and capable of showing students how religion can be a factor in helping build here a finer society.

The candidate probably should be an ordained minister or at least one who has had considerable graduate study in religious education. There are no denominational or age requirements, but we want a man of physical and mental vigor. The salary will depend somewhat upon the man's age and experience, but we shall probably attempt to fill the place at some figure between $2000 and $3000. We would consider a part-time person, provided he maintained his residence here.

A. D. Henderson, President

Dear Doctor Page:-

Your letter of March 11th received relative to a speaking engagement in Elk City on Easter Sunday evening and I have taken up the matter with some of the other local ministers and find that most of the churches are planning to present special programs on that night and so I fear we would not be able to attract much of a crowd as Elk City is not lecture or sermon minded at all.

I regret to thus advise you for personally I should be delighted to meet you and hear you, but I feel it is only fair that I should give you the picture as I see it.

Dear Kirby -

I welcome your letter in reply to mine speaking of a cancellation of the engagement for June 21.

Frankly, the first matter in my consideration is that of finances. If you come, I understand of course, that you will expect some remuneration. That is regular and natural. In the change that has come over things, money is much harder to get and it creates an embarrassing situation. You will remember that you have said much in your books about capitalism and the men who have the money to give are capitalists and their re-action are felt. That creates a difficult situation for me.

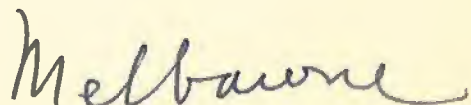

Secondly, I am thinking of your pacifism, and I would not want to be responsible for having any message like that at the Church just now. We would not want to limit your freedom but I do not think it would be wise to have such a message now.

There are other minor matters that I shall not mention, but it seems to me that it is wise to cancel the engagement on the first consideration alone. Sherwood Eddy was here and his message was enthusiastically received, but I observed a very decided change in the financial results.

Trusting that this does clear up the matter and reveal my own personal circumstance, and that you will see the situation in that light, I am,

Very respectfully,

M.A. Cossaboom

Dear Mr. Page:

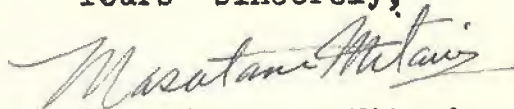

Thank you very much for your prompt answer.
Also thank you for your books and the pamphlet.

Occasionally, I feel weak inside. Faith in God becomes remote in moments of darkness. But still am clinging to the faith which inspired and kept up early Christians.

I can still believe, though in a faltering way, that God is in Heaven and the world is His in spite of all ungodliness.

May God bless you and use you mightily!

Dear Mr. Page:

Of all the many fine addresses I have heard you give, I think that last night's was the best. Every part of it seemed so constructive, so applicable, and so adequate. I hope that material will be in print soon. Certainly it is needed now. As I sat there in that crowded room and noticed the close attention of the audience, I wondered why the millionaires are called the rich men. You enriched several hundred persons, I feel sure, by your message.

Am I right in thinking that there has been a mix-up in this newspaper office? I believe you have the genuine First Aid to offer in these days, but I was surprised when I noticed the headline and then the head.

Again, my particular gratitude for this last message. Probably I'll think the next one is better, but until then, this holds first place.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Page:

Your letter of Feb 28, to H. L. Hartsough was referred to me. Brother Hartsough is on leave of absence for six months doing some work for the Brethren Service Committee. I am chairman of the local ministerial board and in general charge of the program during his absence.

Our board has just met and considered your offer to come in June. We would be happy to have had you on a Sunday ~~evening~~ but probably that is impossible. We will announce your coming to other churches of our district and hope for some attendance from outside our own congregation. We cannot get as good an attendance in midweek as we would on Sunday.

We will take either date that may suit you best. It may be that one of them is taken by this time. I am very sorry for the delay in getting this answer to you, but your letter was forwarded to Hartsough in Mississippi and then back to me, after which I had to call a meeting of the board.

Our board is unanimous in wanting you to come. I, personally, always get an inspiration from hearing you, and I subscribe to your philosophy one hundred per. cent. It is probably no secret to you however that there ~~are~~ some men down town who dislike you more than a little.

I shall appreciate it if you will let me know as soon as your schedule is complete, as to the exact date of your coming.

Dear Mr. Page:

I was very much interested in your letter suggesting the possibility of a one-day conference in Chehalis, and after talking it over with the ministers here, we decided to sponsor it in a united effort if we can arrange a satisfactory date with you.

Most any date would be acceptable here, but one or two of the ministers felt that a September date would be much better if it can be arranged that way. We presumed, however, it would have to fit into your schedule, whatever that may turn out to be.

The matter of details can be worked out later after a date has been chosen. Please give us any suggestions you wish in regard to time of meeting, means of promotion, etc. It is understood we will make no financial guarantee but will provide for offerings to be taken at two sessions.

Hoping that we can get together on some satisfactory arrangement, I am

AIR MAIL

Dear Kirby: I am distressed and worried over a development in affairs here at Talladega with reference to your coming visit.

In view of the fact that a very percentage of our male enrolment was registered for selective service and subject to induction at an early time, we have, like most other colleges, accelerated the progress of the college, with the hope that most of these men can finish either their entire college course, or certainly this year of work, before they are inducted. This means that our commencement date is now set for April 27th. We shall be celebrating the 75th Anniversary of the College on the 25th, 26th, and 27th and the Trustees will be meeting on the 24th and 25th. The entire college will be going through tis examination period in the week of the 20th to the 23rd inclusive. This means that a visit from you on the 23rd right on the last of the examination period, and just as we go into the commencement season and the celebration of our 75th Anniversary, would put you in a spot where you would have very little student or faculty attention. I am terribly chagrined and upset.

I have one suggestion to make. Would it be possible for you to come to us earlier than the week of April 20th to 23rd? Or, failing that, would you care to come to the smaller group that we shall have on the campus during the summer session which begins on the 29th of April and continues until the 4th of July.

I know that it's a pretty late date for you to make changes in your plans, but here I am putting up before you a very real problem. I have a feeling that if you were to come as we have planned on the 23rd of April, your visit would have very little value for anybody except me personally. Let me hear from you when you have the time to look at your schedule.

Yours ever,

However, whichever date you intend to be here, if you will set up a check, so that we are notified the latter part of July, we will do our best here to gather a group for the four, six, and seven-thirty sessions.

Dear Dr. Page:

In our Methodist Paper "Motive" I saw your article "Reaffirmations for 1942". Our Rochester F.O.R. would like to secure at least a thousand copies that we might have to hand out to friends, put in letters, etc. Can you supply us with them? If not, do you mind if we have them mimeographed or printed? I assume there is no copyright but wanted to be sure. Perhaps I should have written to "Motive" rather than to you.

Dear Mr. Page:

We, in Glendale, are very appreciative of the part you played in the Southern California Phalanx Conference. The highlight of this conference that will always be remembered was the stirring challenge that you presented. A challenge that urges us to get back to the basic elements in our Christian Religion. It is a great inspiration for a tremendous up lift too, for prophets like yourself, who are fearlessly carrying the torch, lighting the path way for Christian people.

This letter very inadequately expresses our appreciation, but our indebtedness to you will carry on in the hearts of these people.

Mr. Kirby Page,
La Habra,
Calif.

Dear Mr. Page,

Writing you some time ago I referred to the rather uneasy situation around here in spite of the very placid surface and the possible effect your appearance might have. Receiving your reply which explained your understanding of the situation I went ahead with plans for your meeting. Recently something has happened which made me discuss the whole thing again with some pacifist friends, my own (non-pacifist!) church leaders and Rev. Gene Zendt.

About six weeks ago we had Rev. John Swomley of the FOR here. He spoke to a little FOR group in the afternoon and then, after careful preliminary arrangements, to an informal group of students who usually meet in my home Sunday evening (but this time met in the home of foreign born American citizens.) This week an FBI agent has been in town investigating these "subversive activities". When he found what it was he was very decent about the whole thing. But it is an indication of the tension under the seemingly calm surface of this hamlet.

If the FBI should receive complaints from "several" about such innocuous meetings as we had with Mr. Swomley what will be the reaction to the community to having Kirby Page, well known religious liberal, social radical and pacifist? My pacifist friends rather agreed that we'd risk more harm than good. However my conservative church officials feel that I shouldn't be governed by the actions of a little hysterical group providing that I am sure of Mr. Page's tact and diplomacy. After talking it over with Gene Zendt we agreed to write you for further details about your approach to "Living Prayerfully". The thing that makes me hesitate is a report from David White-- area youth sec. of FOR - who rhapsodizes about your "hour's witness for pacifism" at your Enid, Okla. conference.

We need help in "Prayerful Living" for ourselves and our people. We need a grounding in the techniques of meditation, silence and prayer. We need a deepened religious basis for the expression of our faith in the area of social action. But we do not want, at this time, a discussion ~~ven-~~tered in those areas. If your contribution will be concerned with "Living Prayerfully" we want your witness. But if the subject serves only as a springboard for a plea for pacifism and social radicalism we cannot be interested. These results of "Living Prayerfully" are things we have been and will continue to work for - but they are subjects which in this area and under the present circumstances must be left to established ministers.

If you feel that this approach is valuable enough to demand your time and insight we do want your meeting and are willing to take all the criticism which will come for the sake of that which can be accomplished with the ones who hear you. If you think this puts such restrictions on you that you can't ^{come} we only trust you will be as frank with us as we have been with you. Both Gene and I know this all sounds presumptuous but we feel we must have your assurance that your approach will be primarily spiritual and religious (in the common usage of those terms) if we are to go ahead with the meetings. We have both followed you in conferences and know your gracious and courteous approach to the areas of social tension.

I hope you'll understand the spirit of this letter - I've hesitated to write lest it seem to express unnecessary caution and even cowardice. I prefer to think it represents not only common sense but the kind of diplomacy demanded of his followers by Jesus.

Sincerely,

John P. McConnell

Dear Kirby and Alma,

The first day of spring should be a time for rebirth; it is for us. We have asked for a years leave of absence from the firm, recognizing that it may become permanent, to go with the Pacifist Research Commission. I am announcing this to the Commission at its meeting on March 24th and expect to start as soon as I can get my work cleared up. Thanks for your good letters and prayers.

You are to be in Niagara Falls and Lockport between May 20th and 25th so we shall see you then.

MINUTES PACIFIST RESEARCH COMMISSION (BUREAU).
March 24, 1942 at 10 A.M. 1515 Cherry Street, Philadelphia.

Chairman and Secretary A. J. Muste was chosen chairman and Harrop A. Freeman acted as Secretary.

Previous Activity Attention was called to the previous meetings of preliminary groups and the organizing committee on November 30 and December 29, 1941 and on January 14, February 22, 1942, in which it was determined that a Pacifist Research Commission was needed to operate primarily in two fields-- research and getting the results of research into the hands of people who may use them in application to the post war problems. An organizing committee of five was created which thereupon explored possible executive and research directors, chairmen, research advisers and commission members. These persons were interviewed and their acceptances or observations noted. A finance committee proposed a budget of approximately $15,000 and suggested means of raising this; this committee also took the matter up with such groups as the American Friends Service Committee.

Report of Organizing Committee The organizing committee reported the definite acceptance by 20 members of the proposed Commission (hereafter listed in election to membership), and conference with 11 others who had not yet definitely accepted (hereafter elected to membership upon their acceptance). Acceptance was also reported by 5 persons of the Research Advisory Board (hereafter elected to membership), acceptance as Honorary Chairman by Harry Emerson Fosdick and Clarence Pickett. Because of Henry Cadbury's health it was determined that he should not be asked to serve as chairman or on the commission, even though the commission felt that his absence would constitute a great loss, until Hannah Hull had ascertained from Lydia Cadbury her advice.

Finance Report The committee made a report as to discussions had with Clarence Pickett and members of the AFSC board on contributions by the AFSC to the commission and on channelling funds through the AFSC. The following minute was adopted by the AFSC board as to channelling funds and the matter of a contribution was left until we could present to the AFSC a fuller program, outline of the project and list of personnel:

"It was felt that if the Pacifist Research Commission were financed by appropriations from the sponsoring organizations rather than by individual contributions paid directly to it, the AFSC would be justified in receiving contributions for research purposes which might be applied against its appropriation or other research and would be tax exempt. Tax exemption on other contributions would depend on whether the sponsoring organizations to which they were made were tax exempt."

It was determined that after this organization meeting and before the next AFSC board meeting on April 7th, a report be made to the AFSC and that a request be made for a contribution. A. J. Muste from the FOR and Dan West from the Brethren Service Committee voiced the opinion that those organizations would make contributions substantially in proportion to the AFSC.

A proposed budget was submitted as follows:

Executive Director	$3000	(reduced to 2500 at further request of H. Freeman)
Research Director	5000
Office Stenographers	2400
Travel	1200
Rent	300

4. Upon motion duly made by Ray Newton, seconded by Edward Evans the following officers were elected:

Harry Emerson Fosdick	Hon. Chairman
Clarence Pickett	Hon. Chairman
A. J. Muste	Vice Chairman
Edward Evans	Temporary Treasurer

5. Upon motion of Frederick Libby, seconded by Harrop Freeman the following persons were designated as members of the Research Advisory Board:

Professor A. L. Calhoun	Professor A. W. Cordier
Professor Arthur L. Swift, Jr.	Dr. William Thorpe
Professor Carl Scholtz

6. Upon motion of Frederick Libby, seconded by Edward Evans, Harrop Freeman was selected Executive Director for the period of one year to commence as soon as he can free himself from his law work. The secretary was instructed to write into the minutes an expression of appreciation by the Bureau of Mr. Freeman's willingness at great financial sacrifice to undertake the task and of his continued efforts in inaugurating the Bureau. At Mr. Freeman's request the salary was fixed at $2500.

7. Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried the following Executive Committee was named:

A. J. Muste	Mildred Olmstead
Frederick Libby	Ray Newton
Dan West

8. The next meeting of the Commission was fixed for April 28th at 1515 Cherry Street at 10 A.M.

Mr. Kirby Page,

Dear Mr. Page:

We shall be very happy to have you and Mrs. Page in a one-day conference at the Christian Church in McAlester, Oklahoma, on April 15th. ~~Due to~~ conflicting programs on the 16th I am of the opinion that our attendance would be cut considerably. So if you can be with us on the 15th you may notify me of acceptance at an early date so that we can make proper announcement of the conference.

I would suggest that you use the fourth theme: "Living Prayerfully", and, that we schedule the sessions according to the 'second possibility.' 2:30

I am convinced that your one-day conferences on "The Power of God" will do much good in this hour of crisis. People seem to but turning to God for power to face the problems of life more now than ever. Church attendance in our community at least, is better. People are talking more about religion. It seems this is the hour for Christianity.

While you have been a strong advocate, as others of us have been, for pacifism, you now ^{now} doubt feel as I do that now is no time to talk about pacifism but, to talk about something greater than any 'ism. So when you come to our people, while I would not attempt to suggest what you should say - yet I believe it would be a grave mistake to argue the pacifist point at this time. One reason for bringing this matter up is that when I called one minister about the possibility of your coming, he said: 'What's he going to talk to us about, pacifism?' I replied, I am sure not, that he would talk on Prayer and the Power of God.

If you will, send me a mat, or cut of yourself along with other items concerning your program for advertising purposes.

We are tentatively setting the date April 15th for the conference.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Page,-

I note with interest from your letter of March 12 that you and Mrs. Page are to be in Alabama next month. I appreciate your offer to come to Tuscaloosa on that visit.

Last evening I had together most of the members of our church board. After considering all angles of your offered visit and of its helpfulness to our church and community the men directed me to write accepting your offer. We sincerely hope it is still possible for you to come on April 21 as you suggested.

We will do all possible to promote attendance at the conference. We will aim to arrange a session for four o'clock in the afternoon, a pot-luck supper at six or six thirty in the evening, and an evening session.

If you have materials which would assist us in publicizing the meeting will you kindly forward them to us? We have fifty some Christian Church students at the local University of Alabama. We will do all we can to have these present for the conference, but can never be quite sure how many to count on.

Our Tuscaloosa church is a small congregation, but I am sure we can count on a large proportion of them being in the conference. Our facilities for serving the meal will easily care for the members of the church and the students. We could take care of additional people in the conference sessions and will invite them.

It is our expectation to make a free will offering for your work.

We are happy at the prospect of your coming and will do all we can to give you a good hearing.

A thousand pardons for waiting so long before settling up my book account with you. I have been hoping to find some means of getting rid of them all and have finally succeeded in doing so.

I am enclosing a check for $10.50 which pays in full for the five (5) books at $8.00 and the $2.50 for the fifty (50) copies of "How God Deals With Evil-Doers".

I appreciate so much the leadership you are giving in these difficult days. It means so much to me to know that there are men like yourself and to have put into words the things which my own heart tells me are right.

Phillips University and the Emergency Million Campaign are both in my territory the week of the 15th. Dr. Briggs will speak to a congregational dinner audience the night of the 15th, and the next Sunday Veda Harrah presents the Emergency Million.

Your offer couldn't have come at a less opportune time for me. I am disappointed, because I have long wanted to have you in my city. I hope to run down to Coffeyville to hear you. Austin Smith is a good friend of mine.

I called the Teachers College here, and they have Cameron Beck scheduled for a Thursday chapel. If we could get a date later the college will call a chapel and contribute to the expense fund.

Dear Mr. Page:

Thank you for giving so generously of your time and energy on our campus some days ago. The inspiration and challenge you left with us will not be soon forgotten.

Please express to Mrs. Page our appreciation for her help. We did so enjoy learning to know the both of you better.

Sincerely yours,

My Dear Kirby:

Last spring I announced that I was going to put out a book under the title of "Abundant Living" after the manner and style of "Victorious Living". This book is about two-thirds finished.

I noticed that you were putting out a book under the title of "Living Abundantly". I do not think that the titles need clash but this is just to let you know that before your announcement came I had previously announced a book with a similar title.

Thank you so much for the way you have stood through this crisis.

With my affectionate greetings,

Yours very sincerely,

T. Stanley Jones.

Dear Dr. Page:

I have just received the mimeographed copy of your plans for 1942-43 and I am wondering if it might be possible for you to give to the preachers and their wives of the San Francisco District one day in September of this year.

We have such a meeting each year. Last year we met at Brookdale Lodge in the Santa Cruz Mountains. We expect to meet there again this year, and it would be a great thing for all of us to have a day with you, if that could be arranged. Monday or Tuesday is always best for us. There would be about a hundred present.

As you begin working over your schedule let me know if such a conference would fit in.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Kirby:

I know it sounds foolish for me to tell you that I have been busy and hence have neglected the yearly quest for needs. I know that I am not any busier than you are and a thousand other people in the world. However, it seems that I have had a hard time trying to get my mind on money either for the Peace Section or for anything else. This is partly because I have been out of the office a great deal and when I am in the office I seem to be trying to catch up with other things. You have lived long enough to know that money matters usually come last unless great desperation exists.

I asked Guy Solt if he would not go over some of his names and make me out a list. Here is the list he gave me. As I have gone over it, I would guess that you knew already everyone on it with the exception of perhaps 3 or 4. As a matter of fact, you know, I think, all of the substantial givers that are giving to the Peace Section. Not all those on Guy's list are giving to the Peace Section but I expect they all might be interested in your work.

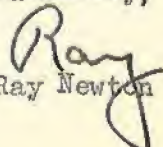

Part of the difficulty is that it would mean people who already knew you, knew what you are doing and approved of it. These people you would know as well as we would.

However, I will try to think a little further and if I can find a name or two pass it on to you. If I could sit down and talk with you together we might think of some person.

Perhaps you will be interested in the report of my trip to Mexico in January where we succeeded in working out a malaria control project in the village of Tolome situated about 25 miles west of the city of Veracruz. Also, there are a couple of letters from the boys down there.

I hope everything is coming along well with you. Give my regards to your good wife and family.

Sincerely,

Ray Newton

Dear Kirby,

It has fallen to me to arrange a Panel Discussion on the subject, "A Just and Durable Peace," to be held on Saturday, July 18th at 2 P.M. before the Southern California Convention of Christian Churches in the Municipal Auditorium of Long Beach, Calif.

You were immediately suggested for a presentation of "The Spiritual Basis." Your recent emphasis is sincerely recognized by great numbers of our people.

This would be a fine opportunity to make a valuable contribution on this vital matter for as you know our convention is very well attended by people who certainly need to be set thinking. You could do a grand service.

I am not informed as to what financial arrangements are to be made but I am certain that all your expenses will be defrayed. I am also inviting Earl Cranston to present the "Political Basis". We are looking for someone to make a presentation of the economic considerations. Have you any suggestions?

Can you be with us at that time? Please let me know at your earliest convenience for the final meeting of the Program Committee will be held on April 27th and I would like to have this shaped up before that time? It is needless to say that I hope that your answer will be in the affirmative.

I will speak to some of the other religious workers here about the dates.

Dear Mr. Page,

Your short note was a masterpiece of Christian restraint! However it leaves to Gene and me the responsibility of deciding what the content of your presentation will be, aided of course by your book "Living Prayerfully". Some of that material is just what we need, other parts would only provoke hostility if presented by an "outsider". (I think you know this all too prevalent feeling in the south.)

Without any more information as to your content material we feel it is inadvisable to go ahead with this meeting.

I wonder if you can realize how hard ~~it~~ is for me to write this - I have long laughed at those timid colleges who would not allow you on their campuses and ridiculed the 100 percenters who feel you are a bad influence. Yet now I seem to be joining their ranks! But after prayerful thought and discussion with others I take this action as best for the time and circumstances even though I do so with real misgivings and pangs of conscience.

In the meantime, with the help of such books as yours I shall continue to work toward these ends we have in common.

Dear Dr. Page

We would very much like to have you prepare three meditations for the October-November-December, 1943, issue of The Quiet Hour, the daily devotional guide which we publish. As the basis of each would you use a Scripture verse which you especially like. The three verses may be ones which have helped or inspired or comforted you. Or they may be verses which "set bells ringing in your mind."

We are asking thirty other leaders in this country to furnish three similar meditations. Thus, the entire issue of The Quiet Hour will be made up of thoughts which have in some measure influenced the lives of those who are now influencing others.

Perhaps you would appreciate some hints as to the type of material we prefer. We are desirous of having meditations slanted to young people and young adults, though in a way that is not objectionable to older folk. The illustrative approach seems to be particularly favored by our readers, so we would be pleased to have you include illustrations in the meditations. In addition to the meditation, would you provide a title, a Scripture verse to be printed at the top of the meditation, a brief Bible passage to be used as the Bible reading for the day, and a prayer to follow the meditation. As to length, the meditation plus the prayer can run from between twenty-three to twenty-five lines of fifty-eight spaces to the line, or about 300 words.

For preparing this material we should be glad to pay you seven dollars. If possible, we would like to have your meditations by September 1, 1942. I hope that you'll be able to find time for this little piece of writing, for I know that you can give our readers a great deal of help and inspiration. Won't you use the enclosed post card to say that you can?

Sincerely yours

Dear Kirby:

I am enclosing herewith extracts from a statement sent out under date of March 16, 1942, by President A. D. Henderson of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio. It is a tribute to the Fellowship of Reconciliation and above all to Paul Jones, that Antioch should be turning to people like ourselves for suggestions for a successor to Paul. Shortly after Paul's death last fall, President Henderson wrote me that his influence at Antioch had been such that he wanted us to be sure that each year the students and faculty were exposed to the F.O.R. message.

It would mean a great deal if a person who could in some measure carry forward Paul Jones' work in his spirit were chosen for his successor.

I am, accordingly, writing to ask whether you know of any candidate or candidates? If you do, perhaps the simplest thing would be for you to write directly to President Henderson, stating that I have written you about the matter. I'd appreciate getting the names of any people whom you may submit to Dr. Henderson in this connection.

With all good wishes for your own work, I am,

Faithfully yours,

LIVING PRAYERFULLY. By Kirby Page. New York: Farrar & Rinehart. $2.

The author of Living Creatively, Living Triumphantly, Living Courageously and numerous other provocative books now comes forward with this one on Living Prayerfully, in which he seeks to tell us "how to experience life's deepest satisfactions and serve mankind most effectively."

Kirby Page is himself a living example of his doctrine. Born in Tyler County, Texas, and reared amid poverty, struggle and handicaps at the village of Lott, near Waco, he is the author of twenty-two widely read books, a lecturer of international renown and a constructive force in the life of his generation.

Jesus the Peacemaker.

Beginning with a sketch of totalitarianism in the First Century, he proceeds to outline next Jesus' way of winning freedom. This, of course, was not the way of armed force, but the way of love. Jesus was, more than all else, a peacemaker. Those who seize upon three passages of Scripture, out of all character with Jesus' teaching and His personality, in their endeavor to show that Jesus ever justified force as a method of settling human grievances, are certainly discomfited by being made to see how impossible and incongruous are their forced interpretations.

Prayer, in the judgment of the author, alone can furnish the spiritual stimuli needed for the experience of the presence of God in the pursuit of Jesus' way of life. "Prayer consists of the attitudes and relationships which give richest meaning to life: awe, wonder, adoration; gratitude, praise, thanksgiving; penitence, contrition, confession; aspiration, yearning, commitment; petition, supplication, intercession; communion, comradeship, fellowship; social action in relieving, preventing, creating."

For Family Devotions.

These, reduced to seven majors, are taken to comprehend the scope of prayer. Most of the large book is occupied with anthologies of choice selections from the Christian literature of the ages, arranged under these seven heads. They are divided into daily readings intended to cover all the days of the year, suitable for the family devotions, for private use or social meetings. One could hardly wish for a more abundant collection. Apparently the whole Page family collaborated in the gathering of this cherished material. It is indeed a notable, even a monumental work.

Dear Friend,

As you will note from the enclosed minutes I am to assume, in the near future, the position of Executive Director of the Pacifist Research Bureau. One of my first tasks following the raising of the Budget will be to interview and recommend to the PRB a research director. Since we want the best person we can obtain, I ask that you give one-half hour to set down the five persons' names who in your opinion would be best suited for this position, together with something about each. The duties will primarily be to lay out and supervise research in the various fields in which we discover unexamined problems. The director should be of unquestioned pacifist position and preferably with such academic background as to fit into the economic and historical portion of our program.

For your information the following have been suggested:

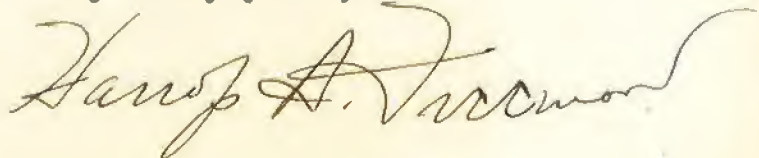

Pat Malin	Steve Raushenbusch
Howard Beale	Harry Rudin
Harold Fey	Sidney Hertsburg
DeVere Allen	Don Jenung
Don Smucker	Dorothy Fosdick
Phil Jacob	E. Raymond Wilson
Andrew Cordier (unable)	Henry Cadbury (unable)

I would also appreciate it if you could, at the same time or in the near future, list those individuals who you believe would be most helpful in doing volunteer work for us. These may be professors, professional peace workers, labor leaders, ministers, laymen, graduate students, etc. It will be helpful if you have in mind that we shall keep an index of all our contacts and cooperators on a card somewhat as follows:

March 31, 42

Dear Kirby:

Do you remember the old rides out of Des Moines ? Well, I do but I cant remember the names of the towns we went to on those Sundays at Drake. I have since taught and studied and with the breaking out of this war I have decided to try and get back into Church work. Dec. 7th will go down in history as the end of an epoch. I have been reading Lasky's "The Rise of Liberalism" and this would seem to be the end of it..... certainly it will come out of this war so changed you will not recognize its face.

As you will see from this precis, I am trying to get a book published. I have tried Willet and Clarke, Scribners, Macmillans and Cokesbury and get various reasons. Two of them have just published a book on worship and cannot carry a second and Cokesbury says they cannot publish a book like this now as it will cost too much. I am writing you about Farrar and Rinehart as I noticed in the Reynolds Club the other day they had published several of your books. Have you any suggestions to make and would it be wise for me to send my manuscript to them ? I am doing some work under Dr. Palmer at Chicago Theological. He is reading my manuscript now and if the University Press turns me down I will rewrite the whole business this term and then I should like to try some new publisher.

You might send me some estimate of this synopsis. I have some good statements from Fosdick, Hartshorne and Ames which should help me get some recognition from publishers. Church Management has accepted my chapter on "Announcements" and it should be out next month.

What are you doing in this present emergency ? I went to the Delaware conference last month, was none too optimistic. The Church can work out the best plans and put up the biggest talk only to get the least done. We need to take far more militant action. I felt the same about America First. We perhaps should have sent ten thousand pickets to Washington. I am with the FOR here and I hope we can help organize a movement for a negotiated peace but it is going to be hard going. There is a conference in Cincinnati Apr. 10-11, I believe, and I may attend. It would be swell to see you there. If you cant come send me your latest stuff on this situation as we also meet here every week. Best wishes to you and the family.

WORSHIP IN FREE CHURCHES

Based on a Physiognomy

Precis of monograph proposed for publication

John Hirschler

I. INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

Research developed out of original timing of worship programs to determine proportion of active participation as compared to passive participation. 5980 minutes or worship time in present total, 4745 given to passive and 1235 to active participation.

Other forms of observation on physical behavior of worshipping groups as gathered from 79 worship services covered in this survey: number using hymnal and those singing; number of men attending as compared to women; age groups; uses made of choirs in worship and other forms of special music; measuring the effectiveness of the sermon and the objective impressions of some 350 worshippers as reported on Instrument #1.

Research proposes new techniques for collecting objective facts about the worship experience out of which better critical forms can develop. It is hoped these will be used to formulate plans to make fruitful changes.

II. THE ESTHETICS OF WORSHIP

Uncritical acceptance of esthetic dominance of worship in current religious thought. Proposed theories under which the minister may criticise the uses of esthetics in his worship services. The intuitionism of Croce and the synesthesia of Ogden and Richards summarized as a practical approach to esthetics. Some application of these principles to current worship practices as seen in "over-directness," use of voice, readings, robes, architecture, etc.

Statements tabulated from Instrument #1 show that most worshippers are neutral to esthetic appeals and many have negative reactions. Meland agrees that those who most typically embrace Christianity have completely lacked appreciation for beauty.

III. PARTICIPATION IN WORSHIP

A comparison is made with the psychology of learning in the field of education. If the student shares in the learning process by participating in it creatively, he not only has a pleasurable experience but the values for him approach a maximum. If on the other hand the learning situation is imposed upon him without regard for need or interest, the process itself will be uninviting, the values for him will approach nil and may even be negative.

This is not submitted as a characteristic picture of participation in worship. It is suggested as a critical form to study the worship situation. While worship is somewhat hieratic and in the nature of the case a more or less imposed situation, there are various forms which participation takes. Comparison is made with Dr. Ames' theory of participation. "Religion is a life-experience, and without sympathetic participation in that experience its dogmas and formulas are lifeless and unappealing."

IV. THE SERMON AND ITS PLACE IN WORSHIP

Comparative place of the emotional and the intellectual. The sermon as "expression" for the minister, the subject-matter and the congregation. Good preaching as a test of personal power. Use of tests for measuring the effectiveness of sermon. Average length of sermon 28.3 minutes. Time not the only measure. A good sermon always seems short.

V. THE EXPERIENCE OF MUSIC IN WORSHIP

Some objectionable forms used in worship. Need for a working psychology of music. Factual data on the musical parts of worship program. Careless and indifferent participation of congregation, reasons for same and some suggested remedies: practice, unison singing, better selection of hymns, etc. Age of hymns sung,....cultural lag often measured by centuries. Criticism of the music of the hymns. Some factual data on the choir and its place evaluated in worship. A larger place for the ministry of music in the Church program.

VI. LITURGICAL FORMS

Present liturgical forms an outgrowth of definite Christian experience. Most of our liturgies and Prayer Books have taken literary shape under the aegis of that terrific drive for what might be called an individual salvation. As this experience dominated the Christian scene in history, breviaries, prayer books and other literary formulations followed.

If this is correct theory with respect to the development of liturgies in the Church, it is wrong to suggest that we can solve our liturgical problem today by "improving the forms without much necessary change in content." The mere literary problem waits on the development of significant group and individual experience in the more socialized forms of current religious life. Mere social Gospel liturgies will not reform community life. They may come to be a mere vocative use of words. They will have meaning and use for worshipping groups when they are the outgrowth of actual work by the group in facing the problems of social reconstruction and cultural improvement in bringing in the Kingdom.

What if local church committees were actively at work on the following items suggested by the Federal Council program: economic and industrial relations, gambling and speculation, the rural problem, international relations, race problems, marriage and the home, legislation and clean politics, cooperative and consumer interests, action of local courts, cultural and educational levels of community life and the various breakdown on the organization of the work of such committees. Implications for worshipping groups.

VII. THE PLACE OF THE OFFERING IN WORSHIP

Some current abuses. Criticism of the prayer of dedication. Some churches have eliminated the offering from the worship service. Consequences noted. Not a panacea but conditions are suggested under which this might be done.

VIII. CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS IN WORSHIP

No rule seems to be followed as seen in the factual data collected. Announcements do help to organize work for the Church. Also act as pleasant interlude for worship service. One minister who made the most of this experience for worship. Mere printed word is not enough. It does not detract from worship to let the public know that the Church is a going concern and has business of its own to which it must attend.

IX. PRAYER AS A PART OF WORSHIP

"Worship or prayer"....Hocking shows what a vital part prayer should play in worship. Certain pagan uses still present. "Free prayer" as a worship form. ... "Random extemporized mediocrity" ... Fosdick. Length not a determining factor. The spirit counts. Varied reactions of worshippers in Instrument #1.

X. THE USES OF SILENCE IN WORSHIP

108 minutes out of 5980 given to this worship form. One church thought enough of silence to give it a place in the printed program but allowed only 20 seconds of actual silence. Some groups unable to use this as a resource. A criticism of silence and suggested conditions under which it was found useful in this survey. Suggestions from Rufus Jones.

XI. THE PRINTED PROGRAMS USED IN WORSHIP

Description of various types seen in the survey. Some pastors suggest they interfere with true worship. Seem to be universally popular with worshipper. They give him something to go by. Useful as means of introducing new forms and they afford an easy way to reorganize parts of the service. Expanding Church program in a technological society demands all available means for favorable publicity.

XII. FREE WORSHIP AND CHRISTIAN UNION

The Federal Council program for union. Catholic proposals discussed. Implications of this problem for worship as stated by Dr. Fagnani. Worship as at present conducted is often divisive but can be and often now is used as a distinct force for unity. The unifying force of work in a common program for community improvement such as is suggested by the Federal Council. Free worship as an outgrowth of this will greatly increase the movement for unity within divided Christendom...indeed would seem to make it a necessity.

XIII. POSSIBLE DEMOCRATIC WAYS IN CURRENT WORSHIP

Democracy more than a right to vote. It must be more and more the right to work for, criticize and improve those social processes by which we progressively reconstruct our current culture. Religion if socially responsive and responsible will have an increasingly large place in this social program to make Democracy work. Some samples of democratic forms used in current worship: The Latter Day Saints, Jehovah's Witnesses, Old Fashioned Methodist Meetings, Christian Science groups and New Testament worship. Real impetus to democracy in worship will come when the Church gets to work on its own social program.

XIV. CAN WORSHIP BE MADE SOCIALLY USEFUL

Some necessary pre-concepts. Mind-set of current worshipping groups. Worship as at present conducted is a kind of "special interest." New religious values must be born. Ward..."unite all mankind in the common action against common ills." Let the transcendental wait on the social. The implication of this for worship. Cautions to be used in bringing about changes in worship programs.

Massed Data on Which the Physiognomy is Based

Tables 1, 2, 3 and 4. Show the time distribution of the various elements in the worship programs covered in this survey. Sermon, Choir, Prayer, Organ, Scripture Reading and Announcements as passive participation; Congregational singing, responsive readings, silence, congregational prayer and communion (1 baptism) as active.

Appendix I Proportion of men attending church as compared to women.
Appendix II Number of worshippers using the hymnal.
Appendix III "What Worshippers Think of Worship".....based on some 277 response items under 66 objective questions in Instrument #1. Essentials of this data reported under Appendix IV, arranged under 3 age levels, 16 to 25, 25 - 40, 40 and over; also three levels of education, common school, high school and college.

Various elements in worship were rated by this representative congregation to see which was most helpful in building up a worthwhile worship experience. Treating the responses statistically, the following numerical rating was evolved;

Sermon	573	The beautiful choir and
The communion service, . . .	291	special music	136
The fellowship of friends		Beauty as seen in the place
and God's people	243	of worship and the service. .	29
Prayer	240
Congregational singing . . .	190	Responsive reading Minus . .	231

Data is also reported on what the worshipper thinks of special music, the sermon, prayer, the place of esthetics and the effects of worship on character, as various questions were asked about these items.

Appendix V Definitions of worship, arranged in a chromatic scale from worship as prayer to worship as a means of social control.

Appendix VI Changing conceptions of religion as seen in a study of five Methodist Episcopal Hymnals, 1836, 1849, 1876, 1905 and 1935. B. F. Crawford, 1939, Carnegie Church Press.

Appendix VII Factual data compiled on 881 hymns used in worship. Based on hymn numbers printed on some dozen different Church programs in Greater New York, 1937-8.

Hymns addressed to Jesus	348	Hymns of the Kingdom of God	40
Hymns " " God	289	Hymns to Nature	31
Hymns " " Church	99	Hymns to the Word	27
Hymns " " Holy Spirit	47

Not an absolute classification but accurate within fair limits.
The authors criticism of the weak and sentimental music of hymn tunes.
Reasons for same found in excessive use of sixth and thirds.

Most books on worship are recommended for their literary excellence, their theological interest or their fine spiritual and devotional qualities which they bring to the aid of the minister. The above research, while written with due regard for these fine virtues, has tried definitely to do the following things for those interested in improving the common worship of our free churches:

- (1) To collect and mass reliable data on current worship experience.
- (2) To interpret this data through the application of improved critical forms.
- (3) As better judgment develops, to use these suggested outcomes of study to keep worship and responsible religious groups on the cutting edge of current social life and its reconstruction.
